
origin Pledge of Allegiance was origin of Nazi salute & flag fanaticism

Posted by Edward Bellamy - 2009/07/17 14:44

Thanks to the Oberlin Ohio School District for opposing the Pledge of Allegiance in schools. However, the Pledge should be ended completely. The Pledge was the origin of the stiff-arm salute adopted later by the National Socialist German Workers Party, as shown in the work of the documentarian Dr. Rex Curry (author of Pledge of Allegiance Secrets). <http://rexcurry.net/pledge2.html> The Pledge and the Bellamys were the origin of similar dogmas, rituals, flag fanaticism and robotic chanting in worship of government there (Germany), here and elsewhere. The Pledge was written (1892) by a socialist in the nationalism movement in the USA and he wanted to use schools to create an industrial army to promote his dogma of military socialism the dogma shared by his cousin Edward Bellamy. If the schools are supposed to teach the history of the Pledge, make sure they have photos of its early straight-arm salute and that they expose the dogma that motivated Francis Bellamy and other National Socialist who promoted the Pledge. Here is such a photograph <http://rexcurry.net/pledge-allegiance-pledge-allegiance2.jpg> and here is a video documentary about it <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BssWWZ3XEe4>

=====

origin Pledge of Allegiance was origin of Nazi salute & flag fanaticism

Posted by News Journalism - 2009/07/17 14:44

Thanks to the Oberlin Ohio School District for opposing the Pledge of Allegiance in schools. However, the Pledge should be ended completely. The Pledge was the origin of the stiff-arm salute adopted later by the National Socialist German Workers Party, as shown in the work of the documentarian Dr. Rex Curry (author of Pledge of Allegiance Secrets).<http://rexcurry.net/pledge2.html> The Pledge and the Bellamys were the origin of similar dogmas, rituals, flag fanaticism and robotic chanting in worship of government there (Germany), here and elsewhere. The Pledge was written (1892) by a socialist in the nationalism movement in the USA and he wanted to use schools to create an industrial army to promote his dogma of military socialism the dogma shared by his cousin Edward Bellamy. If the schools are supposed to teach the history of the Pledge, make sure they have photos of its early straight-arm salute and that they expose the dogma that motivated Francis Bellamy and other National Socialist who promoted the Pledge. Here is such a photograph<http://rexcurry.net/pledge-allegiance-pledge-allegiance2.jpg> and here is a video documentary about it<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BssWWZ3XEe4> A quintessential Olympic symbol was the product of socialism. The New York Times reported that the use of the torch as an Olympic symbol originated within the propaganda machine of the National Socialist German Workers' Party and was first employed in the 1936 games in Berlin. According to the article, "The torch relay, memorialized in Leni Riefenstahl's film, Olympia, was part of Hitler's elaborate attempt to add myth, mystique and glamour to an Olympics intended to intimidate pre-World War II Europe. In Hitler's eyes, the torch symbolized the perfection and victory of the German nation." While the Ancient Greeks did employ a continuously burning flame during their Olympiad, they "opened their Olympics by word of mouth, not fire and into the streets they sent heralds harking, not torchbearers bearing. <http://rexcurry.net/bookchapter1a1c.html> Says Mary Beard, a columnist for The Times of London: I don't quite understand how we have forgotten that the "Olympic Torch" ceremony was invented by Hitler and his chums. And If ever there was an 'invented tradition' well worth stamping out, it is this ridiculous, - inspired waste of money. Ditto for the USA's Pledge of Allegiance, the origin of the Olympic salute and the Nazi salute, as shown in the work of Dr. Rex Curry (author of Pledge of Allegiance Secrets). <http://rexcurry.net/olympic-salute1936b.JPG> Also see the sculpture by Gra Rueb in Amsterdam, the Netherlands <http://rexcurry.net/olympic-salute1928gra-rueb-amsterdam.jpg>

=====